

SOP FOR HOSPITALITY MANAGEMENT

Hailing from a state where the natural beauty of the lands knows no bounds, I have long since appreciated the value of nature tourism and the prospects that it has. Kerala is home to numerous resorts and tourist spots that attract crowds from around the world. Throughout my childhood, I visited several of the state's major tourist attractions.

When I stayed at several resorts, I frequently encountered tourists from all over the world. The tranquillity and peace that resonated through the vibes of the relaxed tourists were palpable. This sparked my interest in working in the hospitality industry. The notion that I would be able to have a direct impact on the happiness of those seeking to relieve stress and find calm inspired me enormously.

I expressed my interest to my parents who encouraged me to plan out my career path such that I would be an adept professional in the field of hospitality and tourism. I maintained great scores throughout my school and college years, often scoring top marks in my class. After completing my schooling in 2015, I opted to gather a focused skillset in hotel management. I secured admission into a reputable university for the same.

My undergraduate studies introduced me to several aspects of hotel management and the basics of tourism including general management, Human Resources, financial planning, and sustainable and eco-friendly practices among others. I built a strong foundation of understanding of different related concepts and realized that I had chosen the right path for myself. During college, I was actively involved in co-curricular and extracurricular activities.

Having graduated from college in 2018 with a GPA of 7.8, I knew that I wanted to study further and explore my academic interests more but it felt right to understand the industry better first. By gathering relevant work experience, I would be able to comprehend what was lacking in my knowledge and which area of specialty I should be focusing on. I received opportunities to work with leading hotel chains and I explored a few of them.

Currently, I hold the position of a front-desk executive at Marriott Hotels in XYZ. My professional journey hasn't been short of enriching and has contributed to my existing skill set which can be described as quite expansive. However, further formal education focused on global aspects of hospitality will help me scale greater heights in my career and secure better opportunities in the long run. It will also be pivotal in helping me achieve my long-term professional goals.

This is why I have decided to study in the program of Hospitality Management offered by ABC University. The course curriculum is comprehensive and places great importance on practice-based learning. I look forward to learning several key concepts and improving my communication and leadership skills as part of the program. Furthermore, the amenities present on the campus and the expertise of the faculty are very impressive. Ranked among the top 15 by FGH EDUCATIONAL RANKINGS, this university is guaranteed to help students like me succeed in their careers.

The campus's location is also noteworthy. The city of London is alive with opportunity and a diverse cosmopolitan population. I am looking forward to making valuable connections and networking with folks from all over the world. Students from all over the world have recognized the country's academic standards, and the UK is the world's second most popular study destination. Having a UK qualification will considerably improve my employment possibilities in India, particularly among foreign hotel and resort businesses.

Upon completing the program, I shall seek out opportunities as a hotel manager or front desk manager at international hotels in Kerala. I want to gather the necessary domain knowledge and practical skills that will help me establish myself as a senior professional in the field. Once I have gathered a few more years of work experience, I shall get started on my long-term goal of establishing a resort of my own in my beautiful hometown.
