

SOP for Canada Spouse Visa Sample

My name is Thomas, and I am the husband of Minu, who is currently attending Cape Breton University in Nova Scotia, Canada, to earn her Post Baccalaureate Diploma in Public Health. I am a devoted and loving husband who wants to be there for my wife during her academic and professional endeavours so that I can demonstrate to her that I will support her in any way that I can. I want to show her that I will be there for her in whatever capacity she needs me. Because of this, I would like to travel to Canada with her and remain with her there so that she will not be completely cut off from the people she cares about. I want to offer her the kind of mental and emotional support that she requires for her to be able to focus on her academic pursuits without experiencing feelings of isolation and disconnection.

I work in the field of psychological counselling. My entire career has been really exciting and enjoyable, and both my coworkers and employers are quite supportive of my choice to take a vacation from my profession so that I may be there for my wife whenever she may require my assistance. They are very understanding, and they are willing to put my work on hold for me when I return to India with my wife following the completion of the programme. I have a Bachelor of Arts in Theology as well as a Bachelor of Arts in Psychology.

My wife and I have been very supportive of one another throughout the entirety of our marriage, which has now been going strong for eight years.

We have also done everything in our power to demonstrate our love and affection for one another. Because we saw in one another a friend and a partner for life, we decided to take the time to get to know each other before we got married. This was because we met through our respective families. I believe that the time has come for me to fulfil the responsibilities that I have assumed as a husband and give my wife all of the support that she requires, both emotionally and psychologically, as well as financially.

I am determined to do everything that is in my power to make this experience more positive for her. Even though it will be difficult for me to be away from my family for that long, I want to travel all the way there to show her how much I love and support her, as well as how much I believe in her goals and dreams. I believe that she would have done the same thing for me in an instant if she had the chance. I am not able to spend enough time with her to reassure her that she is not alone in this and that I am with her at all times because of the significant time difference that exists between Canada and India.

It is challenging for me to provide her with the optimum amount of emotional support while I am so physically separated from her. She is an intelligent and gifted individual who maintains a high level of academic focus and aspires to be in a position where she can assist a great number of people during her career. I take a lot of inspiration from her, and the last thing I want is for her to go through this ordeal by herself rather than making the most of the fantastic chance that has been presented to her.

For this reason, I want to go along with her and be there with her. Because the pandemic is still active, the current state of affairs regarding travel is neither ideal nor in my favour. On the other hand, I am in the process of filing for a spouse visa right now so that once the travel restrictions have been lifted and it is once again safe to travel, I will be able to go to my wife in Canada and be with her there.

I have attached the documents that pertain to my qualifications and professional experience along with the statement for your reference and consideration. I sincerely hope that you will give me this opportunity to be there for my wife, whom I respect and am proud of, and who is currently in a very solemn situation to be alone and away from her entire family. Because I will be there with her, I will be able to make sure that she achieves her goals, and once the programme is through, the two of us will go back to India together.

All of the documents that you have requested have been scanned and attached for your convenience; however, should you require the originals, I will gladly make them available to you. Please do not hesitate to get in touch with me if you require any additional information. To the best of my knowledge, the information contained in this declaration and the accompanying documents is accurate, and I can assure you that I will not violate any rules or regulations throughout the visa application process or after obtaining my Canadian visa.
