

To whom it may concern,

It's my privilege to recommend Mr Sounak Basu for your Journalism and Mass communication fellowship program. I am writing this later in the capacity of an educator who supervised Sounak through his research efforts during his postgraduate program. Having him as my student was a pleasure, for he always showed qualities that set him apart from the rest.

Sounak is a dedicated and hardworking student to say the least. However, it's his inquisitive nature and hunger for knowledge that drew my attention. He has a strong passion for understanding complex theories down to their roots. However, he doesn't just stop at learning the theories – he takes a practical approach and seeks to utilise them in his research endeavours.

I believe Sounak would be an ideal candidate for the fellowship program at your institute, not only due to his commitment to learning but also because of his active participation. I've grown to know him as a team player who's always ready to volunteer for different projects and events. Not many students I've supervised have displayed his level of integrity, practicality, and dedication.

I'd also like to point out that Sounak took up a number of side projects on his own initiative during his postgraduate program under my guidance. I feel gratified to have had the privilege of guiding him with those projects and evaluating them. He certainly has the ability to think out of the box, always coming up with unique research ideas.

Lastly, I should mention that during my time as his mentor, I got to know him quite well as a person. Sounak is a cheerful and passionate student who is always ready to assist others as needed. Not only is he a committed learner himself, but he also takes pleasure in guiding other students with complex concepts and projects.

At this stage of his academic life, Sounak needs the global exposure offered by an esteemed institution like yours. I believe that pursuing a fellowship program at your institute will help him unlock his true potential and reach new heights. Considering his inquisitive nature, unrelenting commitment, and creativity, I don't doubt that his success would, in turn, benefit the academic world.

I sincerely thank you for the opportunity to recommend an amazing student like Sounak, and can assure you that he would be a great addition to your esteemed institute. Do feel free to reach out to me if you have any questions.

Yours Sincerely,
